

NON-UNIFORM POWER SEMICONDUCTOR AND METHOD FOR MAKING

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An active area of a power device comprises active cells having designs that vary depending on where they are located in the active area. Design variations include
5 structural variations and variations in the material used to produce the cells.

60152947 v1